

Queen's University
Department of Family Medicine
Two (2) Full-Time Academic Family Physicians

The Department of Family Medicine (DFM) seeks two (2) full-time academic family physicians for the following roles:

- One (1) Hospitalist (Division Chair)
- One (1) Hospitalist

The successful candidate must have a combination of academic and clinical experience. The ideal candidates will provide evidence of an ability to work in an interdisciplinary, collaborative environment with the expectation that the successful candidates will continue to strengthen DFM's existing collaboration with Providence Care. Clinical responsibilities will be based within Providence Care's Complex Medical Program, with accountability to the DFM Hospitalist Medicine Division. The ideal candidate will exhibit strong potential for innovative and scholarly research and a demonstrated aptitude for teaching, as related to the teaching/research responsibilities outlined below.

Together, the successful candidates will (a) provide medical coverage to a 50-bed complex care in-patient unit at the new Providence Care Hospital and (b) provide call coverage to these in-patient complex care beds, with the goal of achieving one call schedule for all members providing hospitalist medicine at Providence Care Hospital. Among their academic responsibilities, the successful candidates will undertake family medicine-based hospital medicine research. The successful candidates will also assume educational duties that realize DFM's SEAMO deliverables. This may include pursuing education and curriculum development opportunities for residents interested in hospitalist medicine, as well as undergraduate medical education opportunities.

Applicants must be eligible for licensure with the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario on or before the appointment start date, with preference to applicants who hold current, valid certification (or equivalent) in family medicine from the College of Family Physicians of Canada.

Further details on these positions can be viewed online at: http://dfmqueens.ca/welcome/professional_opportunities.php

The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Queen's is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, visible minorities, Aboriginal people, persons with disabilities and persons of any sexual orientation or gender identity. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority.

The University will provide support in its recruitment processes to applicants with disabilities, including accommodation that takes into account an applicant's accessibility needs. If you require accommodation during the interview process, please contact: Laura Kennedy, Department of Family Medicine, 115 Clarence Street, Kingston, Ontario Tel: (613) 533-9300 x. 73007.

Review of applications will commence immediately and continue until the position is filled. Applications are to include a curriculum vitae, the names and contact information of three (3) referees, and a letter summarizing expertise, qualifications and accomplishments relevant to the requirements for the position. Complete applications are to be directed to:
